WILLING TO ACCOMMODATE.

But Not Until All the Rules of the Office Had Been Compiled With.

The sole clerk in that real estate office in an obscure corner of St. Paul street had apparently very little to do yesterday afternoon. The broker was away and not likely to return that evening; so he lighted his cigarette, brought out a copy of The News and, sprawling back on a chair in a comfortable fashion, with his heels on the mantelpiece, he proceeded to absorb himself in the reading.

Presently a nervous looking stranger entered in a hurried manner. Leaning over the begrimed counter he inquired: "Is General Bullhampton about?"

"General Bullhampton?" responded the clerk, without glancing up to see who asked the question.

"Yes," said the stranger.

"General H. L. Bullhampton?" asked the representative.

"Yes, yes,"

"The boss of this office?"

"Yes, yes, yes!"

"You seem a trifle impatient," said the clerk, turning over to another page.

"None of your comments," replied the stranger, partly, with a shade of annoyance, and partly, with his countenance, "but answer my question. Is General Bullhampton in?"

"General H. L. Bullhampton?"

"Yes, here, you blanked idiot—what do you mean by such conduct?"

"Title of the office to be exact and explicit, you know?"

"Well, I don't care a rap what your rules are. I want to know if General Bullhampton is in."

"The boss of this office?"

"If you repeat that again," shouted the now thoroughly enraged stranger, "I'll fracture you in 68,000 pieces and distribute the fragments to the winds."

"Is that so?" and here the clerk carefully folded his paper and removed his feet from the mantelpiece. "Let's see: 'Rule number one—Exactness and explicitness. Rule number two—Be ever obliging to patrons.' Maybe you would like to try."

The stranger jumped up and howled.

"Come from behind that counter, you incarnation of stupidity," he shouted.

"I'll make you look like a defeated silver ball."

"Suppose I were to accommodate you," mused the clerk thoughtfully, "in consideration of rule number two?"

He climbed over the counter.

In less time than it takes to tell it the fun began.

It wasn't that quiet kind of fun either that conduces to the repose of the soul. Even the furniture seemed to take a hand, and flew about in a whirlwind to take refuge in the corner.

Pretty soon things quieted down slightly, and then it was found that the clerk sat outside the prostrate form of the stranger, toying with muscular and machine-like regularity with his physiognomy.

"Got enough?" inquired the clerk.

"Yes," replied the stranger feebly.

"I think I have."

"Perfectly sure?" with a show of anxiousness.

"Perfectly."

The clerk arose, passed around the counter and resumed his former position and paper.

"Say," said the stranger meekly as he climbed painfully to his feet and felt of himself to ascertain what was missing.

"Will you kindly answer one question for me—Is General Bullhampton in?"

"General Bullhampton?"

"Yes."

"General H. L. Bullhampton?"

"Yes."

"The boss of this office?"

"Yes."

"No, he's out. Anything else I can do for you?"

"No."

"Well, good day. Hospital is just around the corner."

"Thanks. Good day."—Baltimore News.

An Earthquake Breaks a Cable.

The cableway at the Deer Park group of mines near Descanso, Cal., was broken in a singular manner recently. It has a single span of 4,450 feet. The tension is twenty tons and the loads are 100-pound sacks of ore from the mines on the mountain side to the mills below. Just after an extra hard shake in the series of earthquakes there it parted. It is supposed that the vibrations, coming from each end of the line, met in the center and caused the break.—Exchange.

Cruel, Cruel

To its victims is that inexorable foe to human peace, that destroyer of rest and frequent termination of human life—rheumatism. Like many other physical ills, it is easily remediable at the outset with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which expels the rheumatic virus from the blood through the kidneys. There exists the simplest evidence to prove that in cases that have resisted other treatment the Bitters has produced thorough and permanent results. But to compare with this malady is folly. Attack it at once with the Bitters and it may be wiped in the bud. When mature it is the most obstinate of complaints. Kidney trouble, dyspepsia, neuralgia, indigestion, gout, constipation, malarial and liver complaints best a hasty retreat when the Bitters is summoned to the rescue. A wingless fly three times a day.

The Field of Gettysburg is to the old soldier and the student the most interesting of all the earth's battle grounds. Those who go to Washington to attend the encampment of the G. A. R. in September, will have the best opportunity of visiting Gettysburg by taking the line of the Michigan Central and the Northern Central, which includes a side trip to Gettysburg either going or returning. For those who wish to return by way of Philadelphia, all return tickets will be honored either via the short line or via Philadelphia, allowing stop-over at Baltimore, Philadelphia and Harrisburg. The stop at Philadelphia will permit of a side trip to New York and return at the low rate of $1.00.

During the summer season the Michigan Central gives the privilege of stopping over at Niagara Falls at any time within the life of the ticket returning, upon depositing it with the ticket agent there, affording a valuable opportunity to see the beauties of the great cataract and vicinity at leisure.

Tickets are also sold to Washington via Toledo and the lines south and east therefrom.

The Michigan Central is the shortest route, the best route, and offers inducements that no other line can give. For any additional information apply to nearest Michigan Central ticket agent or to J. S. Hall, Mich. Pass. Agent, Jackson, Mich.

What Makes a Beautiful Woman.

ERKHART, Ind., July 1, 1891. DULLAM'S GREAT GERMAN MEDICINE CO. My daughter has been afflicted with female trouble for over six years and I have paid out over $750 in vain trying to find relief for her.

A lady friend advised me to secure a bottle of Dullam's Great German Female Uterine Tonic and she has been completely cured by it.

We gave it a fair trial and the results were wonderful. We cannot recommend it too highly to all ladies who are afflicted. BENJAMIN GANER.

Read Carefully.

Dullam's German Medicine Co. GENTLEMEN—For over four years I have been afflicted with an eruption of the skin, which became very troublesome and I could get no relief. I was also troubled very badly with constipation, which nothing I tried gave permanent relief until I took Dullam's Great German Blood, Liver, Stomach and Kidney Remedy, and since taking I have been entirely cured. For a tonic, blood purifier and general health restorer I can heartily recommend it.
